

QSI INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL OF CHENGDU

ASSISTED SCHOOL SPECIAL NEEDS PROFILE

School situations can change quickly, particularly as schools face cutbacks to learning support programs due to the pandemic, current unrest, and economic uncertainty. For the most current information, work with the REO and school. Information in this document was collected by the Department of State's Office of Overseas Schools directly from the school in late 2020. If a field is not specified, please reach out to the REO listed below for more information.

The QSI International School of Chengdu is an independent, coeducational day school which offers an educational program from prekindergarten (three and four years old) through grade 12 for students of all nationalities. The school year comprises five quintiles extending from mid-August to mid-June. A very active parent support group works with the administration and teachers to provide volunteers and special activities throughout the year. Read more on the Overseas Schools Fact Sheet.
